Alma Mater

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
As we sing our grateful song,
Proud are we for thee and prouder
That to Lancaster we belong.
School days filled with joy and laughter
Soon will be a memory.
May they teach us to be braver
As we face our destiny.

Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
Help us now to prove our worth,
As we strive to do thee honor,
Garden spot of all the earth.
Through the years our foes discerning,
Red and black—our flag we'll fly
O'er the best in sport and learning.
Hail to thee, McCaskey High.

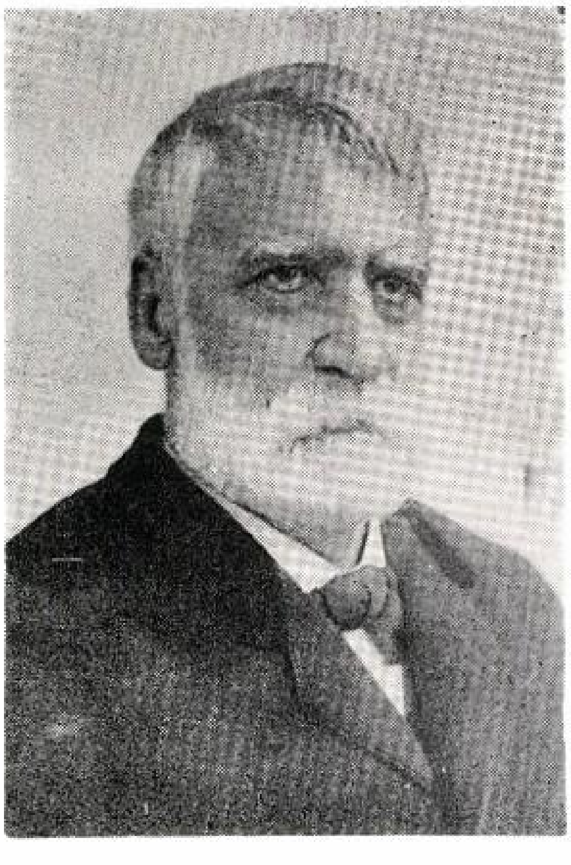
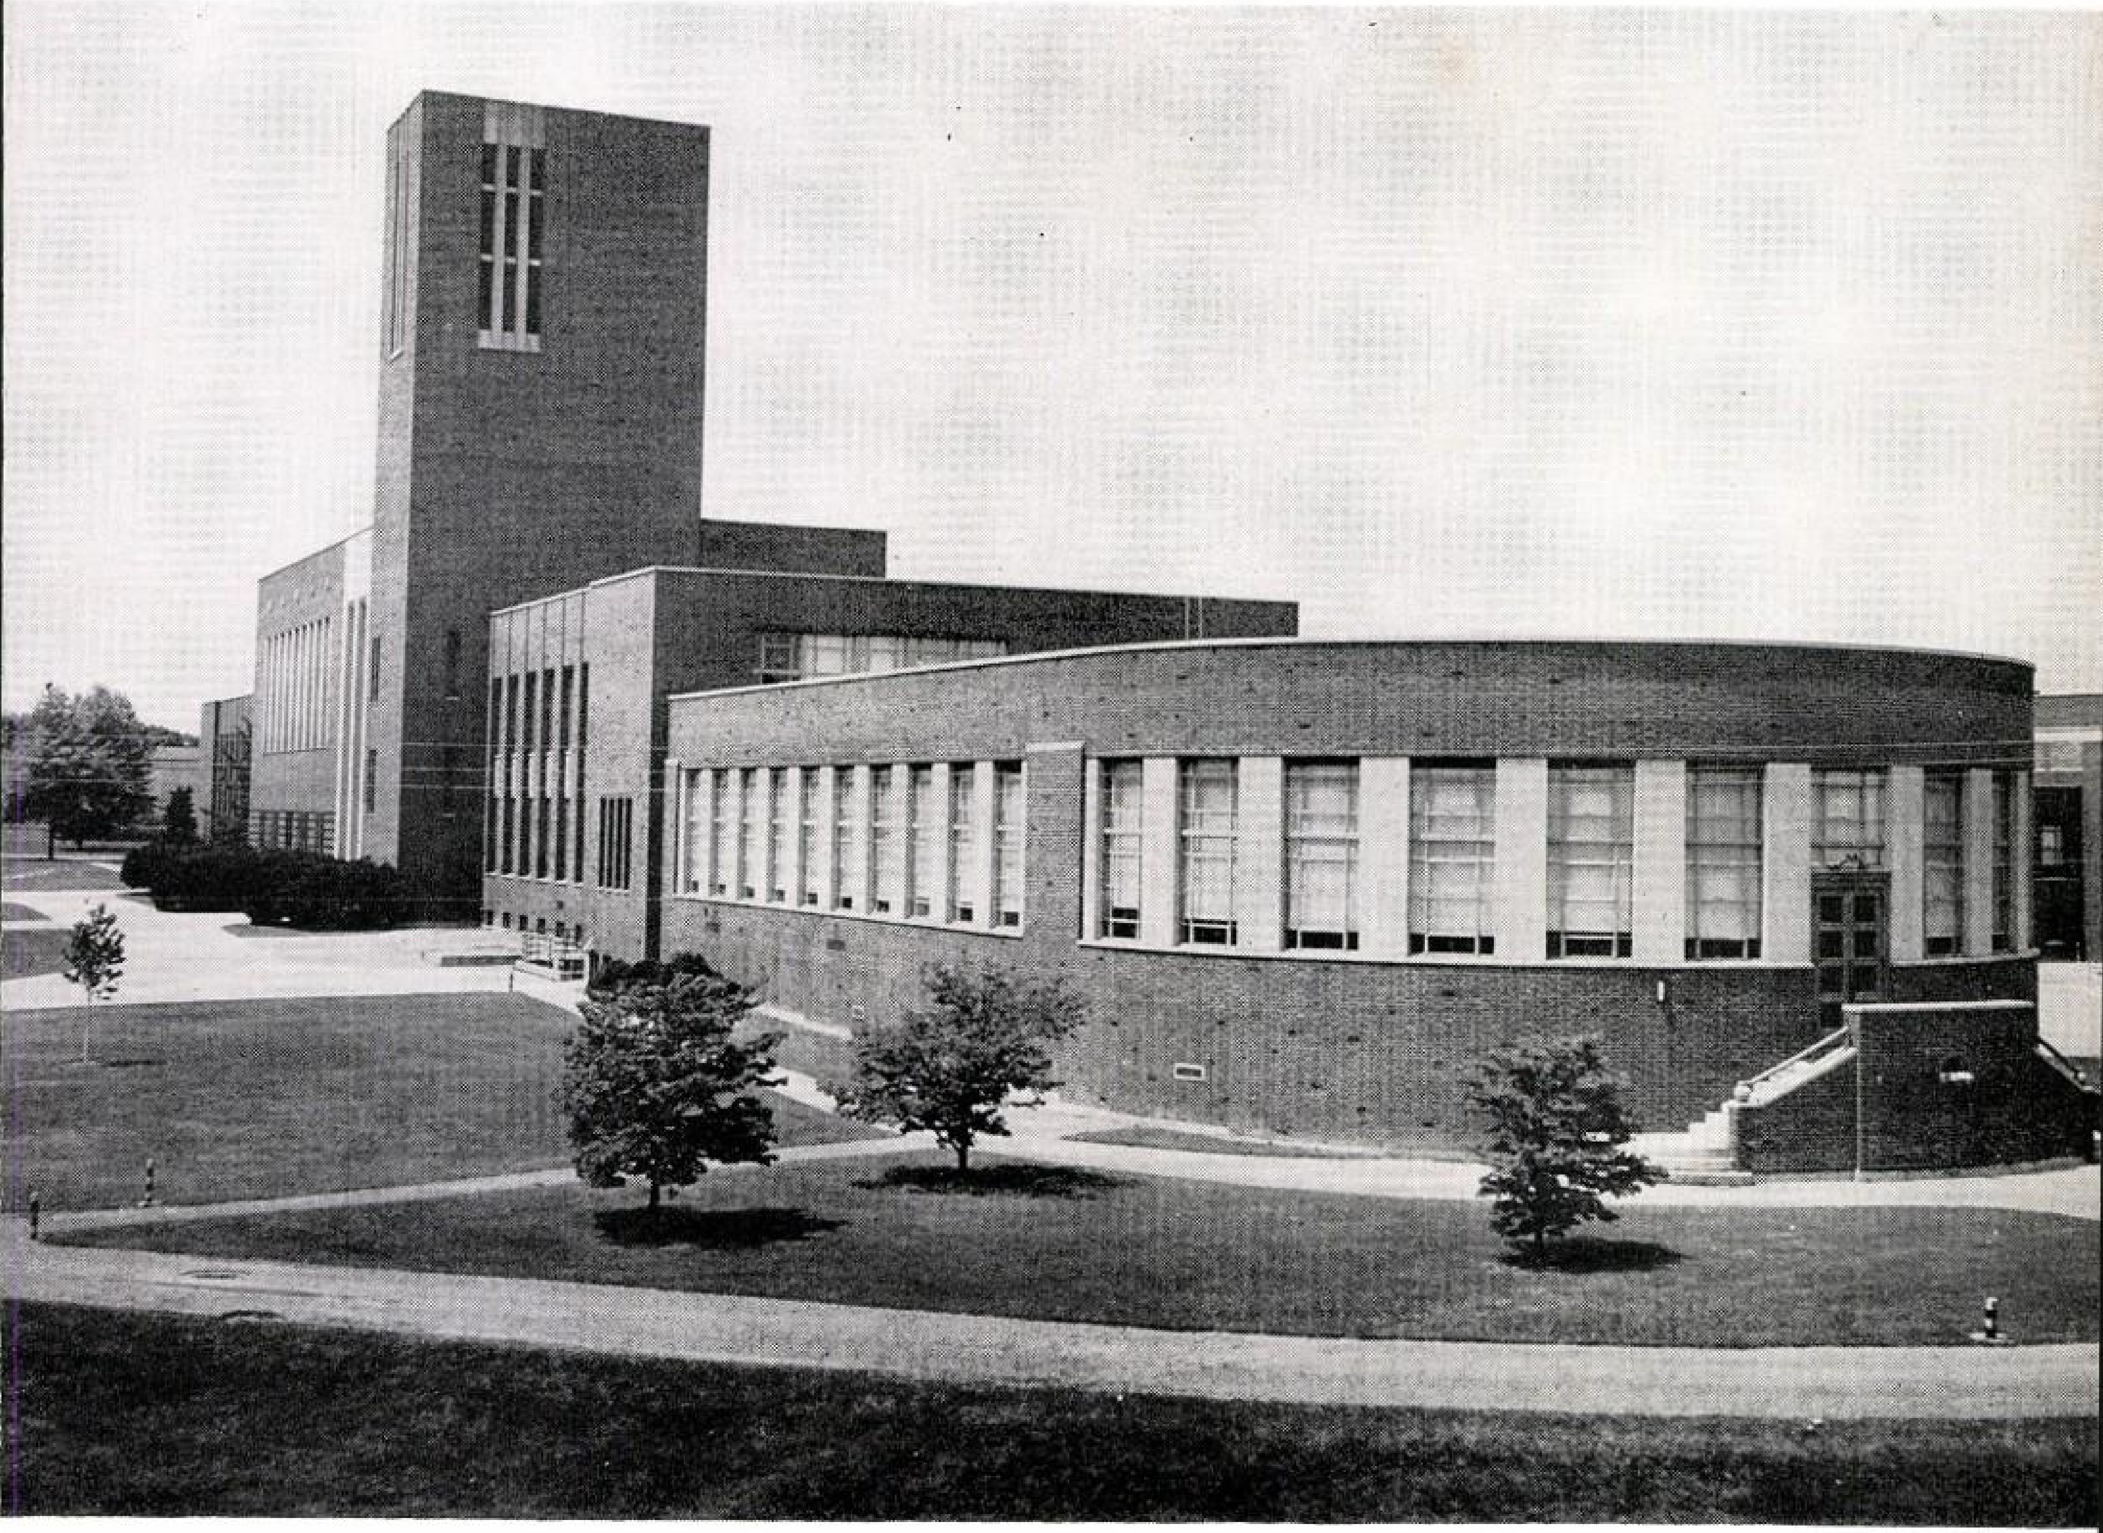
THE ECHO



The John Piersol McCaskey High School is named in honor of J. P. McCaskey, principal for forty years of the Lancaster Boys' High School and inspiring leader of youth.



John Piersol McCaskey High School

Lancaster, Pennsylvania

A Family Looks Backward . . . and Forward

The "McCaskey Family," consisting of faculty members, students, custodians, and cafeteria employees, was designated as such by Dr. Benjamin B. Herr, the first principal. When John Piersol McCaskey High School, the home of the "family," was opened in February, 1938, there was a goldleaf ceiling in the million-dollar high school, a stadium seating 6100 people, an instructional capacity of 2500 pupils, a swimming pool, an auditorium seating 1800, a driver-training course, and training for vocational skills. Many of these were unheard of at that time in public schools.

Since McCaskey has offered these and various other modern facilities from its beginning, it has needed fewer changes than most schools. It is interesting to note that even "Sputnik" has had less influence upon the curriculum here than elsewhere. Sputnik is a man-made satellite placed in the sky by Russia, the first nation to achieve this distinction in the International Geophysical Year. IGY, a great scientific hunt for knowledge, runs from July, 1957, through December, 1958. 10,000 scientists from 67 nations are concentrating their efforts on the earth, its seas, its atmosphere, and its sun. IGY indirectly startled America into reappraising its educational system. After Russia's triumph, almost overnight new scholarships were offered, graduation standards raised, the school curriculum discussed. Schools started to add more science and languages, provide strong incentives for academic achievement, and devote less effort to the pursuit of happiness and the glorifying of sports.

Upon close inquiry in various fields of education, it was discovered half the nation's high schools taught no modern foreign language at all; many lacked courses in chemistry and physics; a too-small percentage taught advanced mathematics. McCaskey has had and still offers three years' instruction in each of three languages; two years in another; and this year added Spanish. Also three years of science and three years of mathematics may be studied.

Many changes have occurred around the school since 1938. Trees and bushes have grown, styles of cars have changed, hair and clothing fashions have gone through various stages; shop and office machinery have been improved. But basically the spirit and high standards of McCaskey have remained. The feeling of loyalty among the members of the "family" and toward the building itself has grown steadily. Forty-six employees who were part of the staff in 1938 remain today and are evidence of the heart and tradition of a school that will continue to serve the citizens of the community through proper instruction and guidance. In the words of a poet in the senior class, "More than a building stands in honor of those gone before."

Trustworthy Citizens Contribute Time and Service

O. H. AURAND
B.S., A.M., Ed.D., Columbia University
Superintendent

Elected for a term of six years, nine responsible citizens, interested in public-school problems, meet at least once every month. Five standing committees — advisory, finance, property, cafeteria and physical education, and recreation — are appointed by the president, Mr. A. Hugh Forster. Mrs. Mary E. Fischer, vice-president, is the first woman officer in Lancaster school-board history. Newly-elected members are John C. Truxal, Dr. William A. Schaeffer, and David K. Shertzer. Mr. Shertzer left Lancaster shortly after his election and was replaced by Oliver J. Smith, former president of the school board.

Clay M. Ryan, a school director for twenty years, did not run for reelection. Mr. Ryan was on the school board when McCaskey High School was dedicated on May 3, 1938, and served until November, 1957.

Cherished Memories Serve as Lingering Reminder

Those first few days are best remembered as a time when McCaskey High School was just so many corridors and room numbers; nameless faces and faceless names. But we managed to hang on fairly well that first year . . .

the year when cross country found a seat on the McCaskey sports roster in its first season since World War 2 . . .

when a paratyphoid epidemic gripped the city, and all McCaskey swimming classes were closed for two months . . .

when Lancaster playgoers were delighted with such fare as "Time Out for Ginger" and "Mr. Barry's Etchings"; and the lilting melodies of "Brigadoon" were featured in the annual presentation of McCaskey's glee club and orchestra.

We were well in step with this fast-paced world by the time our junior year arrived. This year the traffic situation was blessed with a teachers' parking lot, and the Tornado swimming team was blessed with the title of "Second in the State" . . .

when once again our dramatics and music departments came through in traditional style — "Seven Sisters" and "Sight Unseen" were the plays, while the highlight of the spring concert consisted of excerpts from "Carousel" . . .

when twenty of our classmates were chosen members of the National Honor Society; and the class met for the first time as a body to elect these officers: President Robert Metzger, Vice-president Douglas Weidman, Secretary Joyce Reynolds, Treasurer George Machlan, Historian John Hambright.

Who can forget our senior year? The 20th year of McCaskey history. The year when the Tornado of Lancaster rose to become the leading figure in Central Penn football, capturing the championship from Williamsport on that memorable Thanksgiving afternoon in 1957; and John McFalls and Barry Butzer popped up on everybody's list of top athletes . . .

when John Hambright took the Pennsylvania State championship in the American Legion Oratorical Contest; and Harvey Bricker, Frederick Mumma, and Ilse Thieme received recognition in the top group of the National Merit Scholarship awards . . .

when McCaskey's freestyle relay team swam away with first honors in State competition, and Carl Shaar splashed home to a State second in the 150-yard individual medley . . .

when a veteran cross-country team outran all comers for the league championship . . .

when the dramatics group broke away from comedy with a well-received drama, "Night of January 16," and the glee club and orchestra tackled a full musical production of the "Mikado" by Gilbert and Sullivan . . .

when the school curriculum expanded to include instruction in Latin and French for three years and the first year of Spanish . . .

when McCaskey was evaluated for the third time in its history by the Commission on Secondary Schools in order to compare and rate the school with other Pennsylvania schools . . .

and—oh, yes . . . this was the year of vacations, expected and unexpected — three days for 16 inches of February snow, two more for 20 inches in March, two for E-I-B Day and Schoolmen's Day in October, a half-day to honor that championship victory over Williamsport, and, for many, several midwinter days in deference to the Asian Flu bug.

These are the recollections of one class out of many — our class of 1958. May they serve not only as the final written record of our high school days, but also as a ready suggestion to our remembering in the years to come.

(Signed) John Hambright, Historian

Activities

In the curricular and co-curricular program the McCaskey family displays a friendly as well as a respectful relationship between the student-body and the faculty.

A spirit of progress is shown by consistent accomplishment through the many opportunities offered to the students to develop character, scholarship, and leadership. As activities have developed and increased in number over the years, they have also benefited more students.

1958 Yearbook Notes Numerous Changes Since 1938

The ECHO theme, "Twenty Years at McCaskey," permits interesting comparison of school life in 1938 and in 1958. In 1938 the yearbook had a red and black hard cover; previously it had worn a stiff paper cover. Published twice a year with Miss Sarah E. Bitner as one of the advisers, it bore no theme and no school title page. Only the course was written beside each senior's name; but included in the book were a class will, a class poem and song, and "Thirteen Years Hence," all of which are now out of date. Only one group picture was taken of each activity, and on these identification of each person was lacking. Another feature was a picture of the McCaskey Debating Team, who were champions in the Central Penn Debating League.

Today twelve sports teams entered in league competition are pictured with at least one candid photograph on each page. The multitude of musical activities, dramatics, senior writeups, homerooms, the demand for more candids depicting school life and classwork, and the desire to better each year's book make publishing of even one book a year an endless task.

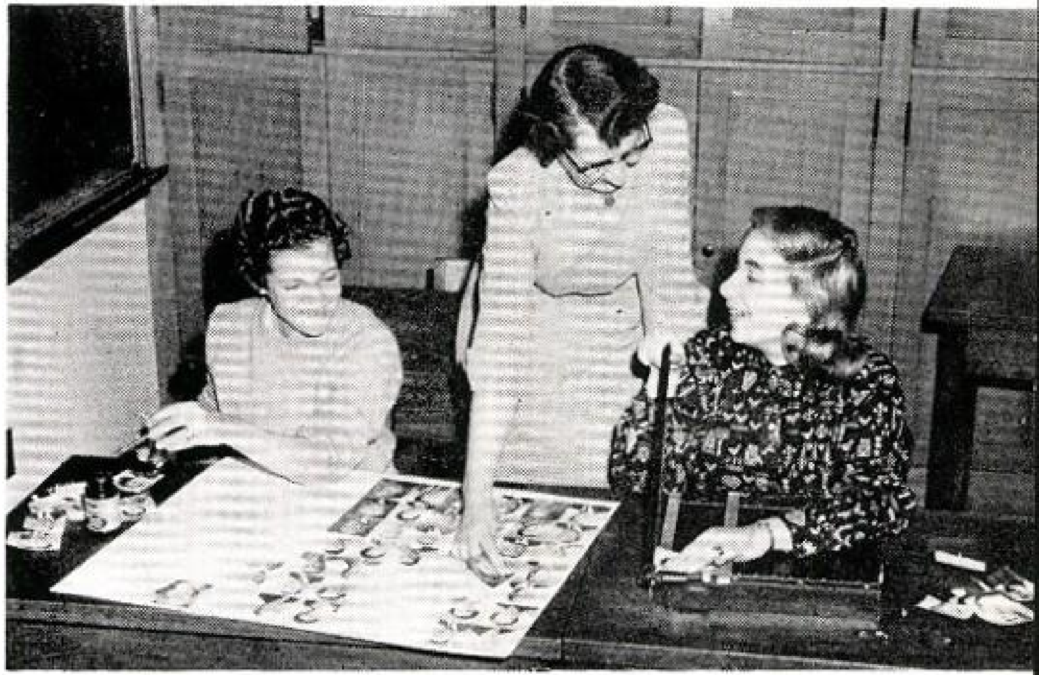
ECHO Membership Increases

There were 31 members on the staff in 1938, when one staff published the paper and the yearbook. Today there are two staffs, with 52 members on the yearbook staff alone. There were blank end-pages and 72 unnumbered pages, compared with pictures on end-pages and 132 pages plus four for autographs today.



Arranging faculty pictures on dummy sheets are Rochelle Price, managing editor; Violet B. Weber, adviser; and Sandra Newman, editor-in-chief.

Pupils Gain Experience in Field of Journalism

Hours of hard work, many nights after school, and last-minute deadlines combine to produce a highly-rated school newspaper, the VIDETTE.

For ten consecutive years the VIDETTE has received the Medalist award, the highest offered by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association. The publication has also been named recipient of the Keystone Award by the Pennsylvania Scholastic Press Association and the International Honor Rating by Quill and Scroll.

Frederick Mumma, art editor, was named top comic cartoonist in the high-school category by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association this year.

The VIDETTE published in 1938 two yearbooks and eight monthly magazines at the cost of $1 per semester. Since 1939, it has been printed as a four-page newspaper.

A new addition this year to the equipment of the newspaper publication is a dark room. All pictures used by the VIDETTE are developed here by student photographers.

Students Gain Recognition in Quill and Scroll

A distinct honor bestowed upon those who have offered outstanding contributions to school publications is their acceptance in Quill and Scroll, the international honorary society for high school journalists. Members of the VIDETTE staff are required to contribute 100 printed inches of copy or its equivalent in other newspaper activities. To achieve this recognition on the yearbook, the ECHO, art work, proof-reading, typing, copy writing, or record-keeping in addition to regular assignments may be used. Primary requirements include classification above the sophomore class and rank in the upper third.

Honor of "Thespian" Bestowed on Dramatists

A minimum of ten points which have been accumulated for participation in the various phases of dramatics entitles a student to membership in the National Thespian Society. These points may be earned by acting in plays, serving as student-director or committee chairman, and participating in classroom and dramatics-club activities.

An assembly initiating new members was presented this spring for the first time in three years. The McCaskey chapter was chartered in 1949 under the supervision of Miss Naomi B. Terry. The motto of the Thespians is "Act well your part; there all the honor lies."

"Night of January 16th," a famous drama-comedy, was presented on November 22 and 23. The play was a murder trial with "Did Karen Andre kill Bjorn Faulkner?" the question to be decided. An unrehearsed jury was picked from the audience. The play was written in such a way that the evidence of the defendant's guilt or innocence was evenly balanced. A different verdict was given each night.

The scenery was designed by Larry Reehling, constructed by the wood-shop boys, and painted by the art students. The "Asian flu" made rehearsing extremely difficult because many cast members were absent at various times. Miss Naomi B. Terry, director, and the cast did an excellent job, and the play was a resounding success.

Starting top right and proceeding left and down: 1. Karen Andre waits in the courtroom for the verdict. 2. Mrs. John Hutchins is sworn in by the Clerk of Court. 3. Magda Svenson, Faulkner's housekeeper, accuses Karen while witnesses listen. 4. Roberta Van Rensselaer tells District Attorney Flint what she knows. 5. Defense Attorney Stevens accuses Mrs. Faulkner of hiring a detective to spy on her husband. 6. Karen Andre learns the truth about the case from Larry Regan, a gangster.

Dramatic Presentations Offer Stage Training

Other prisoners comfort a young couple soon to die at the hands of the Nazi guards in "An Incident of Courage" by Helen Frey. Participants in this play are Margaret Herold, James Gordon, Rebecca Laube, Ella Mae Sheppard, Thomas Franks, Sandra Chaitt, Barbara Frost, Walter Bechtold, David Rieker, Robert Wilson. Seated are Stephanie Rambach and Jean Lackey.

Representatives Serve on Executive Council and Committees

The Student Council, sponsored by Edward C. Kraft, assistant principal, provides an opportunity to the students to voice their opinions on subjects relating to school functions. The organization is composed of one member from each homeroom and representatives from various school activities. Committees functioning this year are concession, program, courtesy, welfare, cafeteria, suggestion, and safety.

The executive council, an addition this year, is composed of all the seniors on the Student Council, plus the officers. Some other accomplishments of the group since September are the decorating of the school lobby at Christmas, the repainting of white lines in the cafeteria, a Valentine tea for the faculty, and a code of conduct for behavior on buses. Also, an extensive transportation survey was taken.

Serving refreshments at a faculty tea are Louise Weaver, Julie Shenk, Benita Herr, Fred Orr, Eloise Aurand, Susan Herr, Virginia May, Randall Bauer, and Brenda Ziegler, members of the Student Council program committee.

Seniors Achieve Honors in National Competition

Gordon Kraft, president of the National Honor Society, welcomes the sophomores and other new students to McCaskey on the first day of school. Seated behind him are David Hess, vice-president of the Student Council, and John H. Rodman, principal. Duties of the National Honor Society members include planning several school assemblies, tutoring students who need help in their school subjects, and taking care of the bulletin boards and trophy cases. Adviser of the group is John S. Oller.

Margaret Herold, secretary of the National Honor Society, conducts sophomores of Miss Violet B. Weber's homeroom on a tour of the building during the orientation program.

McCaskey's three finalists in the National Merit Scholarship competition, Harvey Bricker, Ilse Thieme, and Frederick Mumma, prepare their homework and make good use of all the "tools of the trade."

Displaying McCaskey's birthday cake is John Hambright, winner of the Pennsylvania American Legion Oratorical Contest and qualified entrant for the national contest in New Mexico.

Ten Girls Seek Halloween Queen Title

Near the end of October, the attention of McCaskeyites turned toward the selection of a Halloween queen. Chosen for this honor was Margaret Walz, head majorette, who did a baton-twirling routine to "South Rampart Street Parade." Voting by the entire school was based on talent, poise and attractiveness.

Nine other girls competed with Margaret for the crown. They included Marianne Geraci, Sheila Mentzer, and Susan Theobald, dancers; Susanne Price and Sharon Yohn, pantomimists; Shirley Bradley, vocalist; Shirley Keebler, marimbist; Emese Matskassy, acrobat; and Stephanie Rambach, pianist.

While these girls were practicing for this contest, several students were painting downtown store windows. In competition with neighboring schools, Ilse Thieme earned second prize; Carol Cairns and Shirley Boose took third and fourth prizes, respectively. Both contests were sponsored by the Lancaster Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Social Committee Successfully Sponsors Dances

The All-School Social Committee has been leading McCaskey's social whirl for approximately nineteen years. The deans of the school, S. Ernest Kilgore and Mrs. Mary B. Myers, have been sponsors during its entire existence. This year the co-chairmanship is shared by Margaret Herold and David Hess.

Planning and sponsoring dances is not all fun. It involves a lot of hard work and many hours of it. Decorations must be planned and painted, the gymnasium decorated, refreshments ordered, and countless details arranged.

Members perform their many duties under the following subchairmen: Nancy Essick, checkroom; Stephanie Estreicher, publicity; Joyce Reynolds, guests; Judith Steinman, decorations; Joyce Weaver, refreshments; Randall Bauer, admissions; John Dyke, property; and Lawrence Reehling, music.

The preparations for the memorable senior prom are left to the juniors, who take over the jobs of the seniors so that the graduates may be free to enjoy their last fling.

Right: Randall Bauer, Fred Orr (top), David Scott, David Hess, and David Law collaborate in reaching for a desired effect.

Below: Margaret Herold, co-chairman of the 1957 senior prom committee, sets up a garden scene in the center of the gymnasium.

Decorations Reach Heights

Under the supervision of the Decorations subcommittee, the All-School Social Committee decorates the very heights of the gymnasium. Decorations are in tune with the dance names, which are usually alliterative, such as "Pumpkin Prance," "Tornado Trot," and "Snow Shuffle."

Glee Club Presents Gilbert and Sullivan Operetta

The importance of vocal music at McCaskey has greatly increased during the past 20 years. The 1938 yearbook devoted one page to the topic; that page contained only one picture of the "Mikado" cast and the names of the leads and the graduating members. "The Flowers That Bloom in the Spring" received nine encores.

Under the direction of Miss Dorothy E. Schock, in May the 1958 McCaskey Glee Club of 140 voices again presented the "Mikado" in a full-length performance. The leading parts were sung by Jean Hendrickson, Margaret Herold, Mary Hessinger, Susan Kauffman, Richard Beittel, Thomas Franks, Phillips Shively, and George Wilson.

The annual Christmas concert was presented in December free to the public. A performance of the "Hallelujah Chorus" was given in March with the Lancaster Symphony concert.

Choristers Perform for Local Organizations

The choristers, the newest vocal music group, was organized in 1956 to provide interested songsters an opportunity to sing outside school. Selected by Miss Dorothy E. Schock, this year the 40 members sang in assembly, appeared on television with a preview of the Christmas concert, and sang for various local organizations.

Helen Frey, Jean Hendrickson, Margaret Herold, Henry Hillard, and George Wilson attended District Chorus at Harrisburg. Here Margaret was selected for State Chorus at Oxford, where she was chosen one of six soloists; she competed against 32 vocalists in tryouts for this honor.

Girls Prepare for Senior Glee Club Membership

The girls' glee club now contains 65 members who are gaining the experience necessary to become senior club members. These girls participated in the Christmas concert and in the chorus for the "Mikado." Practices are held twice a week before school and several evenings preceding a concert.

Excerpts from "Carousel" were presented by the glee club in October on E-I-B Day and on Schoolmen's Day. Practice for these performances began the second day of school; with few exceptions daily morning rehearsals were scheduled throughout the school year.

Orchestra Accompanies the "Mikado"

Accompanying the glee club in the "Mikado" and in a special performance of "Carousel" for E-I-B Day were the main projects of the orchestra this year. Five members attended the District Orchestra Festival in Hanover: Jane Barsumian, Julie Shenk, Mary Ann Pfeiffer, Ruth Buzzard, and Linda Gavan. Jane and Julie were chosen for All-State Orchestra also.

The "Strobotuner," an electronic way of tuning an instrument, was acquired this year. It can tune all 12 half tones on the full eight-step musical scale.

Marching Band Performs During Football Season

The Red and Black Marching Band has replaced the Boys' High School Band and the Girls' Drum and Bugle Corps of Stevens (Girls') High School. But a marching band still means winds, brass, percussion — plus plenty of practice. Beginning with the first week of school, band members practice at 7:45 A.M. for the weekly football drills.

McCaskey Concert Band Presents "Tempo—'58"

Under the baton of Donald L. Trostle, the Red and Black Concert Band presented "Tempo—'58" in March. Highlighting the program was "Rumbalero," a Latin-American number. This year for the first time a guest conductor, Fred Zeller, instrumental-music instructor at Hand Junior High School, was featured. He directed two numbers; and a guest from Lebanon Valley College played a trumpet solo. Sheila Allison, who attended four district band festivals, was featured in a clarinet solo.

The McCaskey dance band, composed of seventeen selected members from the concert band, plays for school assemblies and dances.

McCaskey Offers Variety in Science and Mathematics

Since its opening in 1938, McCaskey has offered three years of science instruction. Biology is required of all students and is usually studied in the sophomore year. Chemistry follows in the junior or senior years; many college candidates elect physics. A recent piece of equipment is the Genatron, an electrostatic generator capable of delivering 250,000 volts. It has replaced the old-fashioned static machine and provides the means by which electrons really become dramatic. McCaskey also has a Geiger counter, a device which detects radioactivity. The amount of radiation is registered by a moving needle on a dial and by static-like clicking which becomes louder as the counter draws closer to the source.

The mathematics student will find available two years of algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, trigonometry, and advanced algebra, as well as arithmetic and arithmetic-bookkeeping in the business field.

Projects Offer Opportunity for Better Understanding

Foreground: French III students, Jere Huzzard, Zaferula Valudes, and Helene Friedman, rehearse a play. Back: Latin III students, Byron Detwiler and Ruth Leeper discuss a phrase while Judith Conlin enjoys the play rehearsal.

Spanish I, Latin III, and French III were added to the course of study this year. Two reports comparable to college themes are required of the French students. Each selects two famous French authors and does extensive research on their lives.

School Transportation Changes from Bikes to Cars

McCaskey was one of the first schools in Pennsylvania to teach safety education and driving instruction. At that time in 1938 there were 424 students participating and only one car. At present there are 462 students, with four cars to serve their purposes — two Pontiacs, a Mercury, and a Chevrolet. Under the supervision of four teachers, the safety-driving program includes two sections — the fundamentals of driving the car and classroom study.

According to a recent survey made by the Student Council, in 1938 between 200 and 300 students rode bicycles to school. Today almost 500 students ride buses; 145 drive their own cars, and 404 ride in cars driven by others.

Distributive Education and Sales Classes Learn Art of Selling

McCaskey distributive education students are able to secure up-to-the-minute style merchandise loaned to them from local stores. In most schools students must use the same display materials continually.

Many field trips are taken in the course of a year. At Philadelphia in May, 1957, at the state convention the Lancaster group won the title for the best window display. This was the second time McCaskey won. A "get-acquainted" party was held at the Hotel Brunswick with students from Harrisburg, Pottsville, Reading, and York. The spring conference takes place May 4 and 5 at Hazleton, where McCaskey enters a student in a speech contest. Merchandise manuals and window displays are prepared by each of the fifty groups participating.

In the sales class fibers and fabrics are the main projects in the junior year. In the senior year advertising and retailing are studied.

Carole Harple, Marianne Schuler, Jean Seifried, and Doris Seachrist arrange a Christmas display for their work in sales class. Window display is included in this subject instructed by Mrs. Jeannette M. Philip.

Library Stimulates Reading

Book Week — Theme: Explore with Books. National Library Week — Theme: Wake Up and Read! Both found ready response and interesting displays in the school library. Miss Dorothea E. Wolfe and her student-library staff work countless hours in keeping reference materials up-to-date and taking care of the routine duties.

Distinction was accorded the library when Vija Vitols was elected president of the Pennsylvania Southeastern District Student Library Association, composed of 700 students. Twenty schools were represented at the meeting.

Change Is Made in Sophomore Year of Vocational Course

Students who have enrolled in the general or vocational shops are given adequate knowledge of their future vocations to prepare them for entrance into the world of industry. For practical application of their learning they often aid in many jobs essential to the school. One of the notable projects was the production of seventeen miniature cannons, which when completed were given to the seventeen kindergartens of the Lancaster schools. Each cannon consisted of fifty different parts which were made and assembled by the boys in the machine shop.

This year's sophomore class in the vocational course is the first to be affected by a major change in the course of study at McCaskey. Instead of going into vocational work immediately, the boys are taking a "prevocational course" which is comprised of regular classroom work plus several visits during the year to the various shops. At the end of the sophomore year they will choose the vocational shop they intend to take in their next two years. If they wish to take another course, nothing is lost because they will have had one full year of regular classroom work.

Progress
in Sports

An overflowing spirit of fair play is shown by all participants in intramural games, in league competition, and in the relationship with the coaches. The triumphant victories and the saddening losses inadequately indicate the long hours of practice and the ambition to "get in there and fight."

Few schools have ten different varsity sports or the large number of intramural and co-ed sports activities.

Gridders Gain Central Penn Championship

With the 20-19 victory over Williamsport, McCaskey once again vaulted into the Central Penn Championship after a five-year lapse. Before a crowd of over 9,000 cheering fans, the Red and Black Tornado played a spectacular game, finishing the season with eight wins, one loss, and one tie. Highlighted by the great running of left halfback, Johnny McFalls; the end-around play by right end, Hen Kirchner; and two extra point blocks, this final game provided a thrilling finish to an already outstanding season. It was a cleanly-played game, with not a single major penalty called against either team. The previous week during a light snow the Tornado had beaten York 13-7 in a stalwart defensive game for both teams.

McCaskey placed two of its players on the All-State football squad. Barry Butzer, hard-hitting left tackle, was named first-string tackle. John McFalls, who scored 15 touchdowns in nine games, was made third-string halfback. They were also named to first-team positions on the Central Penn All-Star team. The choice of McFalls to the 1957 Associated Press All-State second team is the highest any area player has placed within recent years.

Junior Varsity Achieves Undefeated Season

The Tornado junior varsity's record of five wins and no losses may well be prophetic of things to come next season. Holding three opponents scoreless with Milton Hershey and John Harris totaling only 21 points, the junior team compiled a final record of 67 points.

Coached by Daniel W. McGary and Edward L. Haller, the Red and Black gridmen played their most successful season in many years. In the last game with York, they held the strong Bearcats scoreless. The stalwart defensive play was outstanding in many of the games. Unfortunately, due to cancellations, the team was unable to play three of their league tilts with Coatesville, Steelton, and Reading. This situation deprived them of the chance of going undefeated in eight starts.

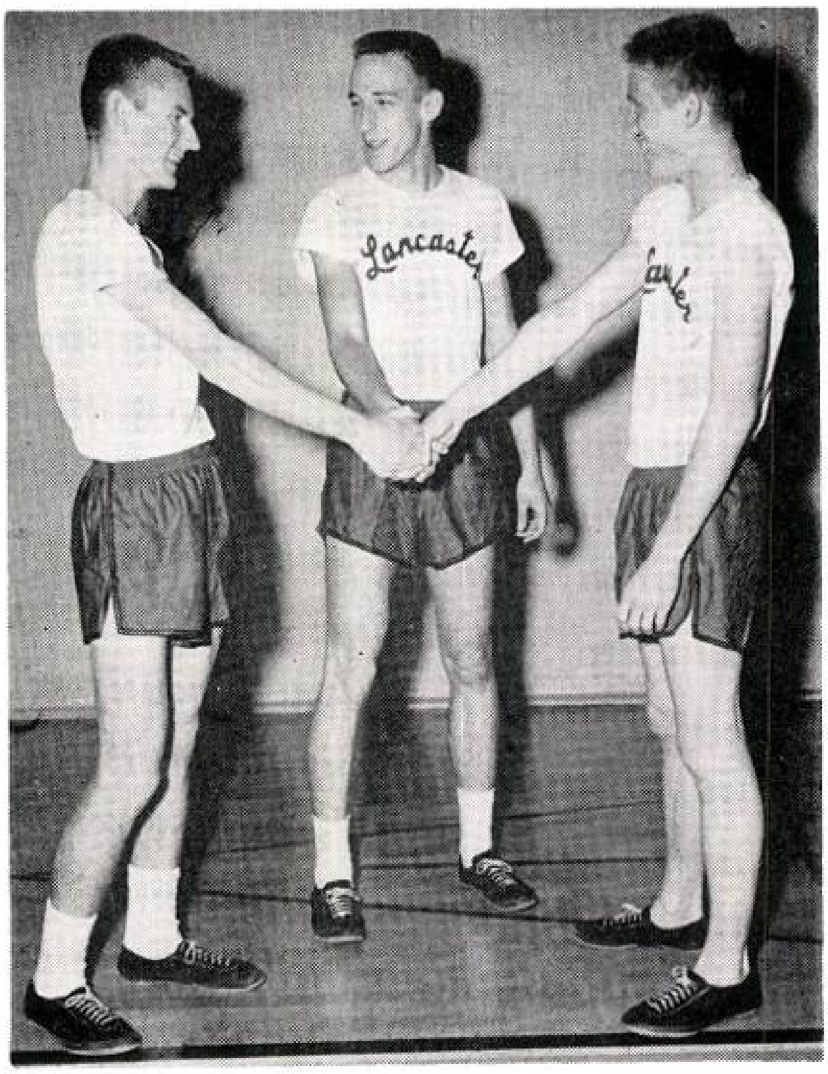
Cross-Country Completes Successful Season

George Machlan, Larry Millhouse, and Don Cunningham congratulate each other after winning the Cross-Country League championship.



Completing their most successful season since the revival of cross-country in 1955, the harriers finished with six wins and two losses in dual meets, second in the Conference meet, and third in the District 3 meet. Larry Millhouse placed first in many Tornado meets. However, he was always closely followed by team-mates George Machlan and Don Cunningham. In fact, a three-way tie occurred among these boys at three different meets. Machlan set the McCaskey course record in the time of 12:52, breaking the old record of 13:08 set by Millhouse.

Larry Millhouse and Don Cunningham, placing third and eighth respectively in the Districts, represented McCaskey at the State meet, in which Don placed 47th out of a field of 136. Millhouse was unable to run because of illness.

McCaskey's booters, hard hit by the loss of seven starters from last year, finished the season with a 4-7 record. The Red and Black team started with four straight wins but later had a rough time with some traditionally strong opponents. Games with three schools were cancelled.

The Junior Varsity finished with a three win, no loss, and two tie record. With a large contingent of juniors and sophomores returning, next year's prospects are bright.

Selected for Lancaster County All-Star Soccer team are Ken Morrison, second team; Jack Huber, first string goal-keeper; Randy Bauer, honorable mention.

Red and Black Dribblers Experience Rough Season

In Central Penn competition the Red and Black basketball team started off slowly but began to pick up speed by the middle of the season. They scored a total of four wins, including one with William Penn which was a thriller, with McCaskey clinching it in the final seconds by one point. This was followed by a three-point overtime loss to Steelton. The team, lacking height, had four juniors and a senior on the starting five. Among the seniors who will be missed are Joe Dennison, a sparkplug forward; Harry Geraci, a sharpshooting forward; and Jack Huber, a scrapper underneath the boards.

This year only one player was placed in the top 15 scorers in the Central Penn Basketball Conference. Carl Kuhn, a junior, was 14th with 194 points in 16 games.

Jayvee Cagers Close Season with Mediocre Record

Playing under the guidance of Charles R. Miller, the 1957-58 edition of the Junior Tornado turned in a mediocre record of nine wins and eleven losses. The jayvee dribblers' overall record against their opponents was even closer than the win-loss record shows. The junior basketeers scored a total of 903 points for an average of 45.15 points per game while their opponents scored 907 points for a per-game average of 45.35. Of the team's eleven losses, five were by five points or less.

High scorer for the squad was Frank Hershey, who hit for a total of 269 points or an average of 13.45. Following him was Vince Keagy, who scored 178 points or an average of 8.9.

Ending the dual-meet season with an 11-1 record, the mermen finished third in the Pennsylvania State Swimming Championships, losing second place by one point. The 200-yard freestyle relay team, composed of Andy Miller, Jim Patterson, Gordie Kraft, and Pete Burkholder, brought back a State championship, the first time McCaskey had first place in a relay in a State event. During the season Captain Carl Shaar broke school records in the backstroke, the butterfly, and the individual medley. Of the twenty McCaskey swimmers entered in the District 3 Championships, ten boys qualified for the Eastern Regionals. All ten traveled to the State Championships where all but one placed.

G. Richard Bechtel was chosen assistant coach this year.

McCaskey Wrestler Cops District 3 Championship Title

With Bob Groff leading the way by taking the District 3 Championship in the 112-pound weight class, the Tornado matmen finished in seventh place in league standings with a record of two wins and seven losses.

Groff, who won all of his matches except one during the regular season, was McCaskey's only champion at the District 3 finals. Bob LeFever won his first two bouts but was unable to advance further. Coach King's crew placed fourth in Division 2 at the District 3 Tournament with a total of 32 points. In the Eastern Regionals Groff was defeated by his opponent.

Clyde Brown, Hen Kirchner, Bob Metzger, Carl Kuhn, and Tony Asplin brush up on their starts. These boys are the backbone of the relay teams and are counted upon to give the team a big boost in its race for districts.

Sixteen Returning Lettermen Produce High Hopes

Headed by co-captains Barry Butzer and Robert Metzger, the McCaskey trackmen are bidding for their second straight undefeated season and District 3 title. Included in the 16 returning lettermen, the thinclads have two district champions in John McFalls, 180-yard low hurdles; and Harry Geraci, pole vault. Butzer, shot-put, and Bob Hable, half-mile, also competed in the State finals. Butzer is expected to go far this year; he has already broken the school records for the shot-put and the discus, hurled at a recent meet. Carl Kuhn, Bob Metzger, and Tony Asplin of the half-mile relay team which tied the school record last year, are back; as are two members of the mile relay team, Bob Metzger and Clyde Brown, that placed second at the Penn Relays.

The McCaskey track has a new look this year with 50 new aluminum hurdles, a macadamized high-jump pit, and a resurfaced track. New equipment and their position as defending champs spur on this year's squad to a record-breaking and history-making season. The schedule includes Manheim Township, Coatesville, Shippensburg, York, Penn Relays, Lebanon, John Harris, Reading, Quadrangular, Underclassmen Invitation, PIAA District 3, and the State Championships. This is the first time McCaskey will compete at Shippensburg.

Left: Bob Hable and Larry Millhouse warm up. Bob placed ninth at State last year, and Larry has come close to the school mile record. Center: John McFalls, district low-hurdles champion and second in the high hurdles, practices his form. Right: Harry Geraci, district pole vault champ, glides over the bar as he practices to retain his position.

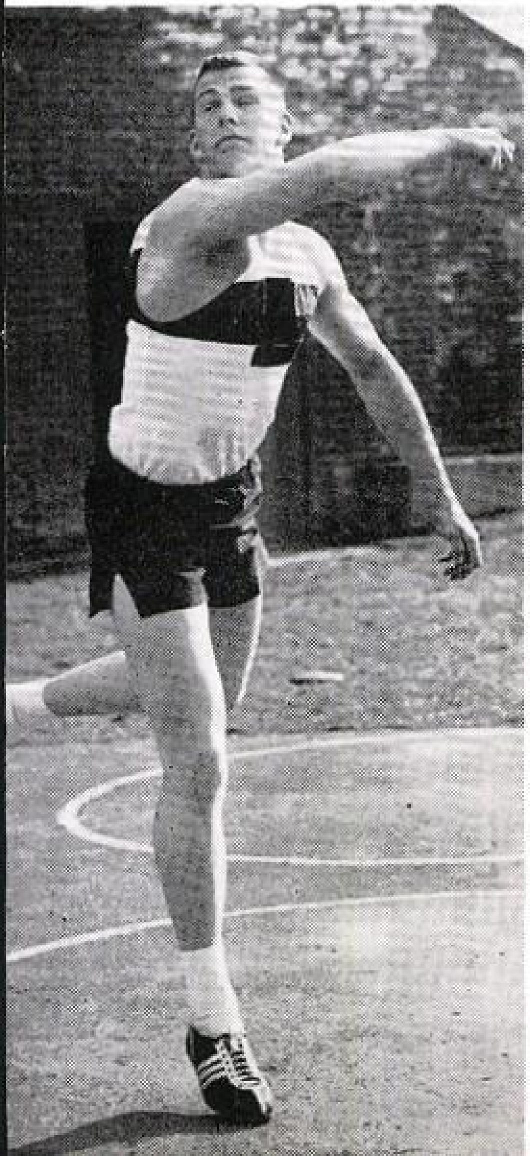
Track Team Aims for Second Consecutive District Title

Left: Mike Christy polishes up discus release in preparation for the next meet. Right: Barry Butzer, school shot-put record holder, executes perfect form in his release as Frank Hershey and Gordie Kraft watch intently.



Varsity players looking toward a championship season are George Brubaker, Michael Shreiner, Donald Brown, Thomas Buckius, and Dennis Kelec. All are seniors, except Brubaker, a sophomore.

Linksmen Anticipate Championship Season

Strengthened by the return of four out of last year's five varsity letter winners, the 1958 Tornado golf team is a strong bet to repeat as Eastern Division Champion in the District 3 tournament. Captained by returning letterman Donald Brown, the linksmen will play a 15-game schedule. Other returning lettermen are Dennis Kelec, Tom Buckius, and Mike Shreiner. In their first match of the season, held on the Conestoga Golf Course, the Tornado linksmen routed Cocalico 14½-½ as Dennis Kelec took medalist honors, with a 74.

With a 53 game winning streak (five undefeated seasons) to defend, the Tornado net team is faced with a major problem since the team is made up entirely of last year's junior varsity. With the graduation of Alan Koth, State Singles Champion, and Ron Bell and Charles Friedman, State Doubles Champions, only underclassmen are left. First man is Glenn Montgomery, runner-up in the Invitational Indoor Singles Tournament. Remaining positions are filled by Andrejs Plakans, Bob Flinchbaugh, and Bill Gilbert, all juniors, and Bruce Bear, a sophomore.

McCaskey Baseball Team Faces Challenging Season

The varsity baseball team, under the coaching of Harry E. Langford, started the 1958 season with two problems — lack of pitchers and lack of practice due to a heavy snow. Bolstered by three former junior varsity pitchers and by eight men returning from last year, destiny is in the hands of underclassmen. The only returning starters are Terry Hoin, captain, and Frank Remley, both regulars from last year's team. The Tornado nine dropped the opening game to Steelton, but rallied to win the next game from Hershey.

Co-ed Tennis Highlights Fall Intramural Program

This year for the first time, a junior boys' tennis intramural match was held on McCaskey courts. A total of 16 boys turned out for the games. In the playoffs Dave Jenkins emerged victorious over Ronald Eby by the score of 6-1. Under the direction of Rupert A. Williams, the juniors learn the fundamentals of tennis in gym class.

William L. Atchley, varsity tennis coach, has charge of intramural tennis matches also.

Boys' Leaders Club Formed as Aid in Class Instruction

Under the supervision of Rupert A. Williams, the Boys' Leaders Club officiates the intramural games, such as touch football, basketball, and softball, played after school. Boys intramural swimming is conducted within the regular swimming classes. This year the duties of the members were increased to include checking the roll and the squads, assisting with equipment, leading calisthenics, and demonstrating games and exercises used in gym classes.

Girls' Leaders Club Sponsors Volleyball Sports Day

The Girls' Leaders Club is composed of 49 girls from all three classes. They assist the instructors in gym classes, take care of equipment, and referee intramural games, of which there are eleven different types for girls — tennis, hockey, archery, basketball, shuffleboard, table tennis, volleyball, badminton, golf, softball, track and field, plus a swimming meet. This year's project was a "Volleyball Sports Day" in which teams from other schools competed with a team made up from the Leaders Club.

Girls' All-Star Basketball Team Emerges Undefeated

Playing various teams from surrounding schools, the Girls' All-Star Basketball Team emerged victorious for the second year. The team consists of girls who exhibit the best playing skills and techniques during the intramural games. Molly Orr and Katharine Snavely are co-captains; and Charlotte Spinella is manager.

"Smitty's Smoothies" captured the title of senior "champs" in this year's double elimination tournament in basketball.

Dolphin Club Members Teach Swimming Skills

The Dolphin Club is composed of 63 girls who assist in teaching the swimming classes. To gain membership in this club a girl must have passed her junior or senior life-saving and be skilled in all phases of swimming. The club period each week is devoted to seeing films demonstrating teaching techniques and to practicing synchronized swimming skills which are put to use in the annual water show.

Two new underwater speakers enable the girls to hear the music under the surface as well as on top of the water. Many underwater stunts, such as back dolphins, sharks, front somersaults, and catalinas are featured in the water shows.

Girls Enjoy Individual Sports

One portion of the year is devoted to individual sports, of which the most popular are ping-pong, shuffleboard, badminton, and table tennis.

"Calendar Capers" is the theme of this year's aquacade. Last year's event, "Broadway Swimphony," included ten numbers based on well-known Broadway shows. Sheila Allison headed the music and routines committee.

Future
of McCaskey

Employing a spirit of understanding in attempting to reach their future goals, the sophomores and juniors await their turn to uphold an honorable reputation established during the past 20 years.

Endeavoring to prove their ability as capable future upperclassmen, these promising students gradually accept the torch and strive to fulfill the duties and responsibilities left to them.

Underclassmen Evelyn Reese, Douglas Smith, and David Ellenberg receive football programs from Diana Henry and Barbara Buckius.

More Than Metal

This building wrought of brick and steel
First only as a structure stood.
Cold, unloved, empty halls,
Bright hard marble, fresh-hewed wood
Meant little to the ones who came
To teach; to learn.

Every day from dawn till dusk
Life flowed through its concrete veins,
Storing wonder, laughter, tears
In sunlit walls, doors, window panes,
As memories of the ones who came
To teach; to learn.

Today, more than a building stands
In honor of those gone before;
Our thoughts, our hopes, our goals born here
Will stay with us forevermore.
We leave behind a part of us
To teach; to learn.
